

1st Week

Monday 15 January 7.15pm
Danson Room, Trinity College

Panel: Climate Justice in Theory and Practice

What's the concept of climate justice about, and how can it be put into practice? Join our panel as we bring together a leading climate justice theorist and a leading activist to discuss this and share their insights!

Asad Rehman, Executive Director, War on Want
Prof. Henry Shue, Senior Research Fellow, Centre for International Studies, University of Oxford

2nd Week

Monday 22 January 7.15pm
Danson Room, Trinity College

Attributing extreme weather to climate change: a new opportunity for climate justice?

Can we attribute responsibility for specific extreme weather events to climate change, and can this pave the way for the worst affected by climate change to make successful claims for compensation from the biggest emitters?

Dr Friederike Otto, Deputy Director, Environmental Change Institute
Sophie Marjanac, Lawyer, Company and Financial/Climate Damage, ClientEarth

3rd Week

Monday 29 Jan 7.15pm
Oxford Hub

The Future of Food

Agriculture is one of the leading drivers of climate change - but seemingly one of the most challenging to decarbonise. What needs to happen if we are to reduce the contribution of our food to climate change?

Dr Marco Springmann, James Martin Fellow, Oxford Martin Programme on the Future of Food

4th Week

Wednesday 7 February 7.15pm
Venue tbc

Natural Capital

Professor Dieter Helm CBE, a distinguished economist and Oxford academic, will be joining us to discuss the importance of 'Natural Capital' in a changing climate.

Prof. Dieter Helm CBE, Independent Chair, Natural Capital Committee & Professor of Energy Policy, University of Oxford

5th Week

Monday 12 February 7.15pm
Oxford Hub

One struggle, different frontlines: The many faces of climate activism

How can the fight for a safe and just future be won? Join our diverse panel of climate professionals exploring different ways of climate activism and discussing how we can achieve the changes we need!

Damian Ryan, Director, Strategy and Impact, The Climate Group
Gita Parihar, former Head of Legal, Friends of the Earth England, Wales & Northern Ireland
Third speaker to be confirmed

6th Week

Monday 19 February 7.15pm
Oxford Hub

Carbon Offsetting

To what extent is emission trading a (false) solution to tackling climate change?

Dr. Ben Caldecott, Founding Director of the Oxford Sustainable Finance Programme, University of Oxford
Sophy Greenhalgh, ICROA IETA Associate, International Director at REDD+

7th Week

Monday 26 February 7.15pm
Oxford Hub

The Cities of the Future

What should today's cities be doing to prepare for the future? An exploration of the problems that face cities in both developing and developed nations.

Dr. Idalina Baptista, Associate Fellow, Oxford Programme for the Future of Cities, University of Oxford

8th Week

Monday 5 March 7.15pm
Venue tbc

George Monbiot on climate change

Campaigner and author of 'Heat: How to Stop the Planet Burning' and 'How Did We Get into This Mess?: Politics, Equality, Nature' speaks to OCS.

George Monbiot, The Guardian columnist and author

8th Week

Wednesday 7 March 7.15pm
Venue tbc

Journal Launch

Celebrate the launch of Anthroposphere, Oxford's new climate journal, with a talk from Myles Allen, a word from some of the journal's authors, and live music!

Prof. Myles Allen, Professor of Geosystem Science, School of Geography and the Environment & Head of the Climate Dynamics Group, Department of Physics, University of Oxford
& Journal contributors & Musicians